You need to post in the Renguard client forum.

Also, be sure any software firewalls are allowing Renguard to connect.

not sure if it's been moved, but this IS the renguard client subforum as for not being able to find master servers, check your firewall allows game.exe AND game2.exe

You are aware that Hud sniper is considered a cheat by many servers and you really shouldn't use it?

I think you misunderstood. What people mean when they say delete everything and start again is to run the uninstallers for RenGuard and then Renegade, delete the renegade folder, and then reinstall everything in order. Sure, you can try that, but thats not what your problem is, so deleting it wont help!

The problem is that for some reason something on your computer is stopping renguard accessing its master servers. You said you disabled your firewall, but did you also check that windows firewall is turned off?

(If you already know this then sorry, but I don't know how good you are with XP so I will post it anyway)

- 1) go to Start -> All Programs -> Accessories -> System Tools -> Security Center
 - 2) Click on Windows Firewall underneath the 'Manage Security Settings for:' label
 - 3) Set it to disabled and click OK. OR add game.exe and game2.exe to its exceptions list.

Lmao. Hi langer!

Now now now, I had no idea you were soooo nooby, it's a shame.
Nah I'm only joking, but it is true(the nooby thing).

Anyway, hope to see you on the battlefield.

The HUD_Sniper thing. No the HUD_Sniper file is not considered a cheat on any server. That clear scope skin is, but that doesn't mean that the hud_sniper.dds file on his computer was a clear scope skin. It could have been a skinned scope(that isn't clear).

Oh and the clear scope skin being considered a cheat on many servers, I would say on few servers. Considering the number of servers there are, "many" just seems to high.

Hope your problem gets fixed langer, lol newbie

Edit: Forwarding ports isn't complicated. You just need to know what ports to forward. It's probably your firewall(your even a bigger noob for using McAfee-for anything!-). It could be your router to if you have one.

ShoutOut: McAfee sucks!

Hehehe

I have been playing all over the place langer. As I thought it seems LT is no longer on GSA, but I can still connect to it by GSA(I'm cool like that). I'll join sometime when I see you on.

Sorry I can't help you with your problem, if you have what you need open then I hav't a clue.

I don't know exactly which ports renguard uses off the top of my head, but if you can find out and then add those ports to an exception list in your firewall it might solve the problem.
