1.) You don't have to pay for WINZip.

2.) WinRAR is nice but after 30 days you get annoying messages saying to purchase the product, it's shareware.

---

3.) Try TUGZip. It's freeware and in my opinion, better than WinRAR.

   * Supports ZIP, 7-ZIP, A, ACE, ARC, ARJ, BH, BZ2, CAB, CPIO, DEB, GCA, GZ, IMP, JAR, LHA (LZH), LIB, RAR, RPM, SQX, TAR, TGZ, TBZ, TAZ, YZ1 and ZOO archives.
   * Supports BIN, C2D, IMG, ISO and NRG disc-images.
   * Support for external plugins.
   * Windows® shell integration, e.g. drag & drop, shell context menu and drop handlers.
   * Create 7-ZIP, BH, BZ2, CAB, JAR, LHA (LZH), SQX, TAR, TGZ, YZ1 and ZIP archives.
   * Script support which allows you to make automated backups.
   * Basic features like: add, extract, delete, rename, run, view, checkout, install, test, comment, SFX, virus-scanning, disk-spanning and much more.
   * Repair corrupted ZIP and SQX archives.
   * Can extract multiple archives at once using Multi Extract.
   * Encrypt archives using 6 different algorithms. Blowfish (128-bit), DES (56-bit), Triple DES (168-bit) and Rijndael (128-bit, 192-bit and 256-bit).
   * Create self-extracting encrypted archives.
   * Automatic updates using the "Web Update" function.
