The reason why BrenBot wont display the messages into IRC is because you're using a out-of-date version of the bot. Look on the private brenbot forums and download the latest version.

If he doesn't have access to the forums then he hasn't got permission to use this BETA. If he is using a leaked version of BR 1.43 then I will refuse to help him.

Th stupid part is that all you had to do to become beta tester is ask PackHunter. But very little people choose to because it would mean they had to take some time into actually testing it and reporting bugs. Now that a version is leaked, people come complain that it doesn't work.

well send packhunter a PM and ask to become a tester, although he seems to be away at the moment, it could take a while to get a reply...
