BRenBot works. First you say that it cannot connect to IRC, then you mention that you cannot use ingame commands. Which is it? Usually not being able to use !commands indicates that you do not have the remote admin settings right (BRenBot sees the !commands in the renlog, so it should still respond to in-game commands regardless of being on IRC).

In short, just because you didn't configure it correctly, doesn't mean you just just think that it doesn't work and move on to something else.

Ask for specific help. Include screenshots or cut and pastes of the problem. Show your configuration files. Someone will help you figure it out.

I'm still at work but I will take a look at your configs this weekend and hopefully spot the problem.
If anyone else beats me to it, by all means help him out.

Well for a start your server.ini does not have login details for Westwood online setup, although since your running on GSA I don't suppose this matters.

I notice you blanked out your RemoteAdminPassword

You should check this is exactly 8 digits long, EG abc12345 or something.

RemoteAdminIP = 127.0.0.1
Sometimes this works better left as RemoteAdminIP =
it seems to vary per server which one works best. For example the tk2 server uses 127.0.0.1, but the snipe server has to have it blank or it cant read ingame chat. Try setting it to blank to see if it works like that, you can always change it back.

Your brenbot.cfg appears to be fine, although you should double check to make sure your paths are right, although they look like they are to me.

Let me know if your still having problems with a blank RemoteAdminIP

If it could not read the renlog, ou would not see the ingame chat on IRC.

I have seen your bot connect to IRC:

[13:13:42] -ownage.n00bstories.com-  Notice -- Client exiting at home.n00bstories.com: CFGbot!Lisanin@*.cust.bluewin.ch

Are you using macrem? This is required for using brenbot with the LFDS (or use XWISP).
