Ok, I moved Renegade Manually to another Hard Drive (Ok, stupid thing to do, but I was too lazy to find my disks) After Renguard started to fowl up I un-installed and Reinstalled. But every time I try to boot up Ren I get this error box.

I did take a Few steps to correct the problem but to no success

- *Reinstalled Renegade To the new Hard-drive
- *Deleted Renguard from the Windows Registry ((Recommended by Uncle))
- *Reinstalled of Renguard to new drive

I'm kind of Out of ideas at this point.

System Specs:

Windows XP with SP pack 2 I believe
Intel M chip with 512 Ram
140 gigs of free space left

Um.. I guess thats all I can tell about that..

I did hear about problems with renguard when installing on a drive other than C: before. I'm unsure if renguard always works on a drive other than c:.

You can manually download the CP's without renguard. Check in this guide:

Ok, that solves half of my problem, but I still need renguard to work to rejoin my server and get back to adminstrating it.. >_< why do you need RG working to rejoin your own server?

Because we just started a Rengard only policy, after getting tired of hackers trying to take over our server. I tryed to get mine running but I get that stupid error box, I was thinking of giving up my admin all together if I Can't fix it..

H4xx0r takeover = require RenGuard? Er, why? Install on C: drive is all I can think of.
