After buying a new PC, I installed Ren on it, using the same serial that I had used on my old PC. Ren on that PC is now uninstalled.

When I went to play online, it said that my serial is shared.

Is there any way I can fix this?

Well, if you'd ask the people at XWIS, they'll just tell you what you already know from that message: install with a valid, unshared serial. But if you can succeed in getting them to help you, you'll be a winner. Try at their forums on their site: <http://strike-team.net>
