- There's something like punctuation which will help us understand the problem easier.
- Make a seperate point (like i'm doing) for each problem, document it with screenshots.
- Your video card is pretty old, which may explain the FPS-problems.
- About renguard: did you already check http://www.renegadecommunity.com/page.php?link=rgfaq ? I'm not saying it contains all answers but it does contain quite a few. If you provide more details about your errors, we'll be able to guide you through easier anyway.

Why the crap is your Athlon 64 3200+ at 994 MHz?

The Cool'N'Quiet feature in AMD CPUs underclocks it when it's not in use. I never knew AthlonXPs had that feature.

If they are "full of errors" you should be able to make a list of 4-5 errors in each. So let's hear them ok Renegade- game crashes returns to desktop, Does not always start, sometimes does not install right, etc...

That's an Athlon 64, not an XP.

Renguard- Auto update thing for core patches does not work well, does not always connect, shuts down from time to time, etc...

and i have a Athlon 64 and it works pretty good

That usually means you have tried to log in with an incorrect name or password.

It's not that, considering I never type my password in(saved) and I logged in after the re-install once. Then they went blank, I mean I see the news page, hit OK..then no servers show up. Shows my name on the top right..no servers, though.
