i have just extraced the images from my camera onto my computer, when i came across this file. if you open it in a text editor (notepad) it says this

Isabella <isabellar@kodak.com>

Maria <mariat@kodak.com>

Michael <michaelo@kodak.com>

William <williams@kodak.com>

my name is on that list, but the camera has no way to put a name on it that i am aware of. i havent got a clue what the others are.

if you're wondering it's a Kodak Easy-Share DX4330, firmware version 1.0000 is the KGB on my tail or somedin? still, i'd rather not have personal info on my camera.

That just looks like a list of "credits" or something, like the makers?

You know I wasn't going to comment on the stupidity of this thread but, I have seen a general decrease in IQ levels in this community over the past few months.
