It would be of much more use to ban the Windows key of the system .

as a renguard ban option?

anyways this would just be some more fake-security because the current ban method is meant to be as unique and safe as banning the mac or windows serial.

A combo of things, based on hardware, would be ideal but then again u'd get problems when upgrading your material. Bleh, just make it very hard: there's not many cheaters that will reinstall their computer to bypass renguard.

yeah sure but as long as there's a "backdoor" you can check as much stuff as you like would be like a hardcore border control with a nearby hole in the fence that no one can see.

You really think you are the first one to have that idea?

The real solution is to make Renguard as "unbypassable" as possible. If there's no bypasses, then there's no need for a RG ban . 100 % is impossible, just making it as hard as possible should do.

absolutely... dont bother increasing security at the main gate, fix the fence first!

but i think its on a good way.

You can change your MAC address within Windows. It doesn't change the hardware MAC but since Windows caches the MAC and applications query Windows it has the same effect.

how about combining all the ban methods like ipban macban windows serial key ban this would make it more hard to let the cheaters unban em selfs right? btw im not going to change ma mac adress ma windows serial key and ma ip just for a game like renegade

Dont be surprised, some people do it.
What i dont get is, why are people so determined to ruin renegade?

Imagine this- they are sitting at home with there little cyperfag hacks, thiking they are 1337 shit, then they get banned.

Then they have a heart attack, and do ANYTHING to get back into the game.
Like, why are they so uptight about getting to ruin a few renegade games? dont they understand that its easy for people to go to another server/kick ban him again?

The worst cheaters are those that try to hide they're cheating, just because they suck too much to play normally or because "they started it and couldn't stop it anymore".

No, the worst cheaters are the ones that do it just to piss people off, and have little power-orgasms everytime they cheat and someone says OMG HAX!. They do not cheat to win, they get off on ruining other peoples fun.
