I saw someone with a techy doing martial arts.

He was punching and kicking.

How did he do that?

It's some Core Patch 2 thing, if I remember correctly. Something servers with it include.

But I really want to know what the keys are.

Some dude said it was on the right keypad with numbers but it didn't work.

yea, get CP2 you can use the different actions with the numpad numbers. Most only work for male characters though.

Then you may not have CP2?

Personally speaking, leave it turned off. There is nothing worse than trying to enter a vehicle as your soldier starts saluting and crossing his chest like a Roman soldier.

You don't need CP2, all you need is the server to be running ssaow and have scripts installed.

I do it all the time, press the numpad keys, turn numpad on your keyboard on and hit F for third person, press buttons...one at a time....only numbers......not above the letters...but numpad numbers.....and btw girls on renegade dont have kung fu moves and all...they try to, but then they stop and go back to normal instantly.....and if this doesnt work, get core patch 2.....and ifyou dunno how, download rengaurd and update it...then you can keep/uninstall it.

Correction, MP-Gaming.com server has better taunts.
I have to agree though, they are funnier. Especially the "play dead" one.

That's actually the bodyslam. If you keep pressing the number after you lie down, you stay like that until you release it. Great for confusing the hell out of people.

Is it possible to get squished while doing a taunt?

Probably. If something bumps into you, the animation stops.

Ah thank you, and by the way, are they serverside meaning if i use them in my game, others can see without it installed? I know most mods arent serverside because other clients do not have skins or other addons, but I have never modded a game with anything related to models and animations.

Laptop is the FN button and press NUM LOCK, then press 1-0 on the top number keys, but it's annoying because then when your typing it reads like this "om5 th73 is real1y we9r5" and everyone says "huh?" so you gotta turn numlock off.....easier on a PC keyboard, numlock doesnt screw your typing.

I just noticed

On my laptop where i play ren, I could use keycfg to edit the kung fu keys to f4-f12, on my laptop i have to use function>numlock>and press numbers 7-9 to do kung fu moves...but 1-6 dont work for some reason, so then if i keep num lock on, my typing is all messed up with numbers rather than letters...weird...so tomorrow i will edit them.

I play a game that has Alt-codes.

They dont seem to work on a laptop.
