I posted on the xwis froums and sum1 told me mabey i shud ask the question ehre so here it is lol.

Hi. I host a Crazy CTF Server on renegade. (a0000009o) And i have NR as my bot and one of the selections is participate in Global Ban List. So i checked it then theres also a place wher ei have to type in the Global NR Directory and wehn i hover over it it says: Input the NR Directory that contains the 'Global Moderator/Bans List' If you do not wish to have global settings leave this blank.

So im wondering is there sumtin i have to download? Like is their sum type of Global Ban List Program that updates?

Baseicly what im asking is if there is like a downloadable program or sumtin that contains the global moderator List/Ban List? If so can you give me a dl?

Hmm, RGLite or BIRDS (Black Intel Retard Disposal System - Not only do they hack the FDS, they also make good names!) are the only "global" (as in, banned from one -server-, you get banned from other servers participating) ban lists I know of. Neither are out yet (AFAIK).

I'm sure Nightma12 will tell you what it does when he gets here, until then, I can suggest the readme.

The global ban list setting is just a global server-side banlist that was originally designed to be used by all servers - however it never got implemented properly and i was the only person who put it into their bot

so yeah.. the globan ban list is empty at the moment and i will probably be removing that feature oince we have RGLite or w-e the Global NR Dir is something completely different - its for if you have multiple servers - you chose one server to be the Master NR and one the Slave - your then set the Slave NR Global NR Dir to the directory of the master - both servers will then share mod lists, permissions, bans, recs etc...
