Hullo,

I know there are a lot of mapmakers in this talented community.

I wanted to ask here for long time but is anyone willing to make me a map?

It's is nothing special. I just want a map with GDI and Nod base with Nod and GDI characters spawned in several places inside their base.

Is it possible? I want to admire the different characters in Renegade and want a map where all these characters stand in one place within their respective bases...then I can use the map, go in and look at the nice character models that Westwood made.

Is it possible?

Why not just take one of the original maps and put spawners for all the characters, and even vehcs is you want them.

Great idea but I dunno if I can do it myself.

I went to the RenHelp.net site and went there to the tutorials and read about spawners and all but I don't get it. I don't have the skills to do it myself.

As for the map, yes, it would be awesome if an existing map could be used...like CnC_Canyon...it's a sunny well-lighted map.

Hay, if I can almost do it half way, than you can do it all the way. I am just too damn lazy to do it!

Access the purchase terminals inside the buildings, walk up to them and press E then choose your character from the characters section.
