This works for both GDI and Nod. Buy a hummer / Buggy and drive around till you can buy an Ion / Nuke beacon and the Stealth black hand / Dead eye. rush the base with you Hummer / Buggy and run to the closes building. find a corner to set the beacon and then hide very close to the beacon.

This works better with Nod but i have had success in this strategy 5 out of 6 times.

(note: base defenses or power mush be out.)

please rate this strategy.

that's proably why it works then.

If you did it where there were 10+ per team, succeeding in it would show how much the enemy sucks...

depends where u put it putting it on top of wf near the smoke stack helps A LOT cuz not many ppl can disarm then the c4
BOINK

hmmmm frankly... if the other team has no power then they will most likely be too busy elsewhere to stop u, and in 4v4 on say islands game is usually over b4 i get 2k

If your enemy can't stop this tactic, you're probably going to beat them no matter what you do...

Or...maybe you just suck!!!! Anyway like I said it does work well espically if you are a stealth blackhand. One time on walls flying a stealth balckhand placed a beacon behind the GDI barracks and then they threw a timed C4 next to the beacon, they died and then four enggy's started to disarm it but the C4 blew and they were all killed. But I was an enggy and I kept my distance so when they died, then I came up and disarmed it and then the beacon was disabled and I stopped it with 2 sec to spare. To bad the game ended 1 sec after that because of the time limit.

LOL yeah but its also possible 2 disarm a ion cannon beacon at 0 SECONDS YES ZERO! but for nukes...doesnt work cuz of the falling nukes (btw it has hp if u look)

If you used this tactic and it worked, it wasn't because of you, it's because you're up against a really, REALLY bad opposition.

It would take one APC or tank to stop this.

I want you to try that tactic in n00bstories, especially when I am on the opposite team.

The server is generally full with 40 players as opposed to 8. CYA soon

Let me rephrase this:

Again, pretty much anything would work if Nod is doing that.

hehe well said...

and 2 the disarm ion thing i think it is like -1 second... it gets scary though when u are disarming and everything around u goes whitey blue...

I was NOD and 8 APC's came one sat at the refinery and it was empty so I took it. Turns out there was hotty placing a beacon behind it. So dumb me got out and tried to kill her but I was killed and then they used the APC to cover up the beacon intill it blew.
