I was wondering who made the APB rank system thing at MP-Gaming, could someone tell me?

I was hoping that that person could build me a similar one, only for Renegade instead, that way I could have a nice, sophisticated, rank system on my new website (coming soon).

Why don't you ask the folks at MP-Gaming? http://www.multiplayerforums.com oxi and Zunnie made anything and everything to do with serverside administration on the ABP server, with a few exceptions.

Most of the stuff for the next release will be clientside though. Kill messages for one, vehicle administration for another.

Then why make a post here? Might as well go ask on the C&C3 forums, too! Hey, maybe Blizzard knows a thing or two about it...

Yes because just like mp-gaming and renforums, the C&C3 and Blizzard forums have everything to do with Renegade

Yeah... my whole point was that he posted on these forums which has just as much to do with MP-Gaming servers as C&C3 and Blizzard does.

Dunno if you got a reply at MP-Gaming yet but the MP-APB stats are based on the original ranks plugin for BRenBot 1.50, although it has been modified so much by Oxi that the code is properly unrecognisable by now.

I am working on an updated ranks plugin for BRenBot 1.51 which includes how many vehicles / buildings each player has killed, and with the right PHP coding on your website you could make it store both cumulative and monthly data.
