OK, here's an idea stolen from the purepwnage forums.

You post a picture of a game (from any time on any platform) it should only show a portion of the screen.

People have to try and guess the game and post with their answer.

The person who posted the picture confirms the correct answer and the first person who said it can then post their own pic. In the event that the poster does not confirm the winner can be awarded by general concensus.

NOTES: be sure the file name has no clue to the game in it! don't make it too obvious and ensure that the game name is not shown anywhere in your picture.

Here's one to get things started:

I have it.

I cut the picture back slightly.

You would do well to note "Any time from any platform" for this one.

Guess away!

Incorrect.
I'll be going on holiday soon, so I'll have to elect someone to act for me, I'll PM them the answer, but they're then forbidded from revealing it, obviously.

Right, That was RoboBlitz/RoboHordes, an Unreal Engine 3 game. Someone else post one, I'm off on holiday.
