Whats the Weirdest lag you've come into?
I remember Once on C&C_City_Flying I was a Raveshaw, bought an Apache and tried to get into it. The apache Disappeared, then reappeared up-side down for a sec, then disappeared again, i had huge fps lag, couldn't move and it lasted about 20 seconds. Then the apache blew up and my Raveshaw moved along the ground like a vehicle, no feet animation, but smooth speeding-up movement and slowing down movement. The world box was the same as i could go inside a building, and i looked the same to all the other players (or they would have complained about a veh in the HON). I bought a new char at the pt, but it still persisted until i committed suicide.

Ever lag right when buying a new chaacter? they stand still like you werent walking, but when you do walk, they dont move, not even when being shot, their gun points down or sideways, but they shoot forward, it's funny lol.

My weirdest lag was on Hourglass. I was in a Stank up the right side of the map and all of a sudden, I start gliding right into the GDI base! The tank was moving sideways and the AGT goes ape! LOL...well, the tank blew up and I died. I was glad I wasn't in a Light Tank...would have given the enemy the shell.

Similar happened to me on a server sided death match near the church (m09 is it?) I was in a stank at the first church (the th one along the roadside, not the one in a giant spot of its own), and all of a sudden i glided to the middle of a pathway near where babushka would be in sp.

Its always fun somehow getting stuck to pt's ( im not sure if it caused by lag ) and getting stuck in buildings. Yesterday, i somehow bought an nod 500er while i lagged back out, but then, i somehow was stuck in the HoN wall, dunno why, had to rejoin. same for a thing i somehow couldnt leave the HoN, i could walk through it, and not warping back, but when i went out or jumped out the windows i kept warping back, i litterly tried to get out for 15 minutes which just didnt worked.

Sadukar = Blue hell with nuke, or Nod spammed so much nukes the sky keeps staying red ( i have seen it sometimes on marathon servers where the skys stays red by nuke spam or continous raining due GDI spamming ions, with this i mean, the skys stays in a beacon situation even if there are no beacons placed or active ).

Also, I sometimes get that when i drive, it looks like my Driver falls through the ground, then heavily decrease of FPS, when i try to look in 3th person, i dont see myself, but in first i can see my regun, this mostly caused a heavily Continious FPS drop until my ren freezes and often have to stop ren with task manager.

Stealth tank rush on field.

Doing well, and able to sneak by the GDI mediums that were spamming rounds to find us. We were about to cross the threshold to the base and take down the agt, when suddenly my screen flashes and I am now in a red health stealth that is trying to drive over a GDI Medium who is crashed into the barn.

Whee.

My eternal fav: the MLRS rounds that come out of nowhere during lag spikes

I keep entering vechs, and it'd be first person when I'm in the vechs, it'd then get real laggy.

Got that too, and your vech will like drive gay, warping and it will look like your a drunk driver. I hate it when ppl enter your vehicle and your vehicle starts lagging or something like that, warping etc, mostly re-enter fixes that, but its quite annoying and just by holding the A key ( for me strafing left ) will cause your entire vech to spin, same for seeing tanks warping, and others not... caused by lag?

I've never seen :V as a smiley before, usually means joking.

And I'm defensive because I've spent most of my ren playing days defending myself against people saying I cheat because I don't/didn't run RenGuard. I'm not about to stop defending my reputation now.

Lol, looks like someone has faulty vis to be seeing through buildings. Also Incorrect textures has been a problem since ren started (so I'm told).
