SSGM supports SSCTF, that is now officially "old".

I don't know of anyone hosting a "crazy" mod to SSCTF for public download. But you should base your mod on SSGM, it is the newest version. You can downlaod it from www.black-cell.net

This is the version I released 2 years ago, I'm not sure if it what you are looking for but here you go.

He's gonna have to work with that. He can actually use that for SSGM even though it's for SSAOW. I'm too stingy at the moment to release the one I made for SSGM lol. And I doubt there are any other public versions out there.

Download ssgm and set it to run in ssctf mode, then slap that objects file that matty put up for download in your server's data directory, then setup ssgm.ini to declare the objects file.

So just inject the objects file into the data folder. Rename it to objects.gm and make sure it's set to read it in the SSGM.ini file.
