Who really gives a fuck what you think? Anyone care about the shit you're talking about?

Me personally, no. It's nice to know when I get online I know what players to avoid. It's called "Tactics".

Well for the ratio the stats are really good, but then if you look on commandandconquer.com's stats, theres people that are in the thousands of winning and only lost 20-30 times, look at number 1 in the stats, his average gametime is 6 minutes long, he's captured over 1200 buildings, I dont know how he does it, but he somehow wins with his strategy.
