The minimising problem was solved with the last Renguard update. You probably have an older version running?

Anyway, right click the icon in the adress bar and do "maximise". Go to renguard.com and install the latest update .

Which operating system?
Can you please completely remove Renguard (Start > Control Panel > Add/Remove Programs) and then Reinstall the latest version from here

What used to solve the problem which shouldn't exist anymore:
Quote:You can also go into your registry (Start -> Run -> regedit), browse to
"Top" values to anything between 200-1024 or so to make the RG window display normally again.

look for "Print Screen" button on keyboard and then open up paint and press paste. < that is for taking screen shots not on the game if you wanna take a ss in the game just press "Print Screen" and then look in renegade data folder and it will be there.

OK. Do you feel confident enough to registry edit? If you don't know what that means, probably not.

(For the regs, I'm thinking maybe the registry needs to be cleaned of BHS entries, I'm taking shots in the dark :s)

Try right clicking renguard and choose move, then an arrow key. If the problem is the window is off screen that should get it back without messing around with the registry.

After you press an arrow key the mouse should stick to the title bar until you click... You can also move the window with the arrow keys.
