Hello Renegade Forums!

The moddb top 100 hundred has been announced and Red Alert 2: Apocalypse Rising is one of the lucky independant games on the Renegade w3d engine that made it there! We thank all who voted and got us to where we are, but the awards aren't over yet. Oh no, Phase two of voting has now been initiated. So please vote for us so that we can prove that there is still life in C&C Renegade yet.

You can check out the moddb profile for Apocalypse Rising here:
http://www.moddb.com/games/6670/red-alert-...ocalypse-rising

The top 100 released and unreleased projects are listed here. You can vote from here:
http://www.moddb.com/events/2007-mod-of-th...r-awards/top100

You can find Apocalypse Rising under Best Upcoming Mods & Indie Games of 2007, just press the '+' icon next to the Indie Games category and then the 'click to vote' button.

You can also find our sister project, the established Red Alert: A Path Beyond in the released indie games section of the top 100. They could also use every vote they can get so check them out as well if you have the time.

You do not need to register, you can vote as a guest. We hope you will spend a little time to vote for us and to support the C&C community as a whole.

Thankyou.

Congrats to the W3D mods who made it to the Top 100.

Renegade 2007 has also made it to the Top 100. Lots of C&C mods made it, so we hope you will spend a little time to vote for us and to support the C&C community as a whole.

C&C Reborn ftw. I voted for all four.

APB
AR
Reborn
Renegade 2007

Must have been the quotation marks either side of the url, seems to be fixed now.

Building off the Renegade engine requires a few in-jokes and ironies to lighten things up.

The name "bluehell" offends me because it makes me think it's a wanna-be bluethen...
If only though.

More games then renegade have a "blue hell" they just aren't as easy to get sent to.

Indeed, but as you point out, the bug is more prominant in Renegade and w3d related games suach as AR, APB and Reborn.

Approx 15 hours left, so go vote for all C&C related games, lets go beat the Half life community

But yeah, vote for anything you want really, you can vote for everything if you wish, so may as well support the community.

HORQWER if you think BlueHell is so gay why are you accepting members of their team?

And I thought you were kicked out of your little club for being a dipshit.

I voted for most C&C Mods really, there's a couple other indie games and Crysis mods I chipped in for but really I stuck to my roots.

C&C forever
