It is possible, but the both can't be red. Would require tons of re skinning.

You can change all the people and vechs on gdi to nod people and vechs. Don't know about the buildings though, you'd probably have to recreate each maps and change gdi's buildings to nod.

The idea's been in the air for a long time, and I'm surprised it's never been done before.

Kane disallow infighting within the brotherhood, we must conserve our forces for those infidels, the GDI.

The map would require all the nod buildings , vehicles, and characters to be skinned another color, that would add more to the map download size.

Nah, just change the pct settings so you buy nod and gdi stuff. The only problem I can see is you would spawn as a gdi soldier at the beginning. As for the buildings you would just have to take them in Renx and rename the meshes just like when someone adds to Obelisks to a map.

Then in Level edit you'd have to edit the building controller a bit. Also you may have to make a cnc_c130drop2 or something for their airstrip to follow then tell the building controller to use that.
