Ok well last night I was playing some ren on my usual server, (Baddog Gaming) playing away like usual and then my Ren just crashes so I press don't send error report and reload ren but this time as it joins the server it froze my ren and I couldn't leave. I tried ctrl alt delete but it wouldn't pop up. So I had no choice but to restart my computer. So now whenever I join that server I get the same problem, it just freezes as soon as its joins the server.

I loaded ren in windowed mode so I always had taskman open and ready just incase and this is what I get.

Ok i'm going to upload 2 crashdumps.

The first crashdump is from the original crash (The one that happened last night)

The second one is what I get when I try and loadup ren on that server.

Im using scripts 3.4.4. I've tried reinstalling them but it was to no avail. I can join other servers just not that one.

Sometimes this happens to me, hasn't happened recently. I think you have to wait until the FDS and the bot think you've gone (If you watch, BR takes about a minute to realise you've left the game. I've restarted my whole PC and have just loaded Ren when my brother's screen shows "CarrierII has left the game"...)

You just have to restart, and then hope.

Our problems aren't the same, I was still not able to join 24hours after the initial crash. The server had been restarted twice since along with the bot. Obviously my computer had been restarted because it would lock up my computer if I joined that server.

But thanks anyways.
