Is it even worth the effort?

Besides, because you can use LE, and make a few scripts, it doesn't make you some kind of god.

Also, my LE is broken at the moment.

MadRockz wrote on Thu, 13 March 2008 17:45because you cant create / find a obelisk script? No, because you're a freakin pretender. You act like you know C++, but when it comes to Renegade scripts, it looks like to me, that all you do is take original scripts, and edit them. You keep acting like a freakin god, if you honestly know that much C++, if you honestly think you're that good, then come up with something original and impressive, like a regulator or anything! Maybe a anti-cheat!?

I myself don't know that much C++, but your bragging and showing off is starting to tick me off, no one is impressed, no one is worshipping you, stop acting like it.
