As much as I like shooting ppl in the head with my pistol as a tech, I prefer this much strategy much more: Stay inside your team's respawn area, and plant c4's on your teammates... your c4 explosions can't hurt them, but it can kill your enemies. The c4's will stay on them as they walk around, or even as they enter vehicles; just follow them around (as techs normally should) then explode the c4s as soon they get close to enemies!

this can be costly because each team is only allowed a total of 30 c4 units (Mines and Remote C4).The mines are better placed as base defense and you should use your pistol. Aim for the head.

There is a limit on 30 C4s, but if it blows quick then there won't be any problem... C4 is very good at base defence, but don't you think they can handle 25-29 C4s instead of 30?
