Hello all, i have downloaded renegade, and added NO-CD crack....
And i can not see movies on single player, which annoys me...
I do have a legit cd key, so it's not illegal.. But my cd's broke, so i could not install it by them...

Are there anyway i can add the movies?
It tells me to insert disc, when comming to a movie, i press cancel and then it just moves to the mission.

Only here who suck dick is you!

I ask a question, and i do not expect some child comming in here and telling me what they movies does!

I love the movies, they are cool, interesting and quite fun!

load up youtube and find the correct video before you start the mission, alt tab when you complete a mission, watch the video, then start the next mission

Thank you for the great reply..
Seems its the only option i have, seeing i do need the red cd to be playing the movies..

Sorry my act above.

The movies are stored on the game disk. You need to insert the CD. I think it's possible to grab the right files off the CD and put them in your data folder, but I'm not sure about that.

I know. This confused the hell out of me. I figured RenForums had its first bi-polar poster with a self-hating multi-personality disorder.

All the game's movie files are stored on one of the CDs. I believe the names of them are "R_(whatever)" and one called "EA_WW". Just open up the CD in explorer and create a folder in Data called "Movies". Chuck all the movie files in there and then you can watch them without the CD.

Isn't there supposed to be a "Data" CD where you have to insert for the movies? You probably only downloaded "Game", download the "Data" CD.

you should just play it online with everyone else here instead of toddling around in single player or at least if and when you get single player working and finished hop online and see why people still give a shit about the game like everyone else says renegade has 2 cd's ones data other is game the one with the game which u installed put the no cd crack in works but without the other cd that has the movies stored on it you wont see shit....so you need both cd's

Placing the movie files in your data/Movies dir does work, I've had it set up like that for years.
No-more retarded CD-spinups.
The movie files all end in the BIK extension, short for BINK.

Why wasn't this piracy related topic locked/deleted on post 1? Have the rules really changed that much around here?

(seemingly) as long as someone has a valid serial and we are not supplying them with a cracked version of the game it isn't disallowed on these forums. The movies aren't a core part of the game, so I'm guessing EA will turn a blind eye to this.
