You mean you have no text.

Yeah.. the cause of this is unknown. The solution is to restart your computer every time it happens. (It should work after the restart)

Lol i know the exsact problem 2.

Have u installed Renguard?? befor if you have thats probley the problem. when u install renegade and get everything installed the way you want it to and u install with renguard, sometimes brings its own files in that run with renegade but u need every part of the renguard to make it work or u can some times get the blank text. i dont understand why thoe. but to complelty get it to work. Go to westwood find your renegade folder and basicly delete it. i had to when i first use renguard. i dont use it now because it sucks. but thats just me. But i had to go thru everything. to get it to work. and after i even got everything out of regedit. i reinstalled it and it worked Fine. but yea. idk why it exsactly is like that.

That gibberish makes no sens. Most people get the "no text" problem right after installing Renegade, never heard of it being related to Renguard. Also: you never just delete a directory, you first use the program's uninstaller so it also cleans the registry.

Yep, there are 2 font's in the renegade folder.

54251___.TTF >> Regata Condensed LET
ARI_____.TTF >> Arial MT

I'll post them here, put them in your renegade folder, see if it works.
