Hey up, Im new to Renegade and new to online play entirely. I started Renegade yesterday and was prompted to installed Renguard which I later found out was an anti-cheat system so fair enough I installed it. I've also got XFire installed (& GS Arcade)When I access a server through XFire to play it lets me into the game and goes through the Renguard way. But when I get into the game it tells me I don't currently have Renguard installed. I've got no idea why it's doing that? Does anybody know what the problem is?

Thanks

Renguard is discontinued, really. Its use is very limited at the moment.

Ah I was just worried because I'd seen people getting kicked for not using it and I didn't quite fancy that happening to me. Thanks for letting me know tho.

That thing saying "you are not running RG" when you are is a common BR(brenbot, a server bot) bug, ignore it and don't bother using RG it causes more problems than it solves.
