i watched a tutorial on renhelp and followed every step and when i open the proxy w3d file there is just a plane in gmax when i open the light after export it is just a normal plain too what i must do for it?

open the mine file in renx and add the plane on it? but when i open the plane of the light it is just a plane

Wait a sec, you have the nerve to ask us a stupid question and then say you won't release it?

you also need the model w_c4-p.w3d That is the model for the proximity in that tutorial there is also a gmax scene, use that as sample i mean that i wont release the fukin error mines and when its finished i will maybe release it and i will never be so good like scrin

Lies.

Try and do what Scrin does, but make sure it does not burn peoples' retinas when looking at them.
