What do you mean they are not recticles? They are cool aiming things, anyways it is kinda hard to have a rectivle advantage skin.

you cant aim very good with this
it looks cool
but i think aim=0

the point is the most important, the rest is secondary, try to combine it and make a nice reticle

So, I make fun of one person. Even though he is a good map/model/texture/skin maker why would you hate me for that.

Anyway there are forces at work here that you don't even understand between me and Scrin.

sorry but these are failticles.

you can't just shoot whenever it turns red, you will still miss because the important part in the reticle is the middle dot...

These reticles fail, but it DOES show you know how to put one together.
Try to come up with a symmetrical, cool design and implement it.
