Woodland deadeye for sure
The reason I picked deadeye as the next thing to skin was I wanted a nice one, and that's very nice.

I would say the cool deadeye, its not too overblown/ovrhauled as some of the others.

Also is it allowed in the contest to adjust the model? Or do those have to be the defaultmodel? (I would say do a weaponskin for the followin contest I have a nice idea ^^)

Not really, Dover. When I made my APC the color choice was a quick choice, I didn't really care, I was just scrolling the hue-bar along.

Why are people so negative about these skins? I know monster deadeye is a fail, but why don't you try to make something better, instead of just blaming it? Because then you'll find out it's pretty hard to get the low poly renegade models looking actually "nice".

I don't try and make something better because I know I can't, and I'll just produce more garbage like what's in this thread. I wish the people who made these skins in this thread realized that too, and maybe the mod release forum wouldn't be flooded with bullshit.

I skinned all of the GDI and Sakura with real normal street clothes off the internet. They looked good too. It was like an old navy commercial cast was drafted for war.

That doesn't sound terribly good, although compared to the trash and garbage in these contests, my guess is you'd probably win (Or at the very least, get my vote).

Everyone wants your vote. People can't sleep for the fear of not getting your vote. YOUR VOTE! Damn, what it would mean to me.....well, words couldn't begin to explain the sheer glee.

Good. My vote should mean more than the vote of someone who goes "LOL KOOL SKIN MAN!!!! CAN I HAZ DIS?!?!?! UR SO GUD!!1!" to every post. It should be motivation to produce something with actual quality.
