The CW.cc community is hosting a huge tournament that will bring some excitement back to Renegade. The renegade forums have already agreed to help with anything needed. Together we are hoping to make this tournament fun and something to remember for ages! I am inviting all communities to participate in the tournament. Below you can see all the details of the tournament.

Tournament Information

Title: Renegade Global Community Tournament (RGCT)

Type: Double Elimination Tournament (will create a third party bracket with link on renegade forums)

Size: 10+ Communities (15 player rosters each, 10 regulars + 5 subs)

Match Time and Date: Saturdays @ 9pm GMT

Seedings: Random Match-ups.

Server Host: Dedicated RGCT Servers.

Maps: TBD (finals will be Field)

Rules:
Time limit: 30 minutes
Starting credits: 0
Crates: default (yellow crates)
Pointmod: off
Ped beacon wins: off
Donations: off
Vehicle shells: off
Weapons drop: off
Weapons spawn: off
Flaming infantry/vehicles: disallowed
Wall jumping with vehicles: disallowed
Wall jumping with infantry: allowed
One man wall jumping: disallowed
B2B: disallowed
Building Hopping: disallowed
Tunnel beacons: disallowed
Islands: b2b from first island disallowed
Hourglass: hill camp allowed

Match Format:
Each Round both communities should play each side(NOD + GDI) on the designated map.

Victory:
1. Base destruction (BD) - If one community wins a side by base destruction and the other does not, then the community who destroyed the others base advances. If both communities destroyed each others base, then the community who did it in the fastest time wins.
2. Building Points (BP) - If neither community destroys the others base, then buildings that were destroyed on each side will be added up. The community with the most building points will advance.
WF, STRIP, BAR, HAND = 2 BP
All other buildings = 1 BP
Turret + GT = 0 BP
3. Total Score (TS)- If their is a tie in building points, then total scores will be added. The community with the highest total score will advance. If their is a tie in total score, then a third round will be played with random sides.

BD --> BP --> TS
If both BD --> Time limit
If both BP equal --> TS
If both TS equal --> Third round random sides

Sportsmanship:
We would like to keep this tournament good clean fun. So all community leaders will be held responsible for their own communities sportsmanship. Public chat (F2) should be used only to ask important questions, or say things like "nice shot" and "good game".

Estimated Dates:
July 26th, 2009 - Letter goes out notifying all communities of the tournament on renforums + sign-ups for each community opened.
August 21st, 2009 - Last day to join the tournament. All communities must submit rosters.
August 22nd, 2009 - Poll to seed each community should be announced and started.
August 29th, 2009 - Match-ups are announced and bracket posted
September 5th, 2009 - First round of Tournament starts.

FAQ:
How do we get the match results at the end of each round?
Winning community submits SS as proof.
How do we know which buildings were killed?
Ingame screenshots and logs.
How do we know if there was base destruction or not?
End game screenshots.
How do we know the time limit and total points?
End game screenshots.
Where do the winning communities submit their SS and logs?
Renegade forums.
Can a player compete for more than one community?
No.

Prizes:

n00bstories has generously donated $200 worth of cash prizes!!! 1st place will receive $100. 2nd place will receive $60. 3rd place will receive $40.

I think it would be hard to ask the same roster of players to make every round of the tournament. So each round communities may go into the tournament with a new sign-up of players if they wish. This will also give a chance for more players from each community to contribute. A community may also choose to stick with the same roster the whole tournament.

Sign-up:
1. CW.cc (Mr.Mom)
2. Jelly (Jelly)
3. Ex0dus (Arnyswart)
4. Shadow-Team (Adad)
5. Atomix (Xpert)
6. {Os} (Moeze)
7. The Koss2 (Goztow)
8. [NE] ([NE]Fobby[GEN])
9. Tsunami Gaming (TsuScorpio)
10. St0rm (Wilo)
11. -SoQ- (-SoQ-Warlock)

Only community leaders may sign their community up.

Thank yous:
TD - A huge thanks goes out to TD for organizing and initiating the tournament! He deserves as much credit as myself!
n00bbstories - A huge thanks goes out to n00bstories for sponsoring the tournament with some very nice cash prizes!
Renforums - A huge thanks goes out to Renforums for hosting tournament forums!
TSU Solutions - A huge thanks goes out to TSU Solutions for donating a VPS to the tournament.
Pvtschlag- A huge thanks goes out to pvtschlag for creating an absolutely amazing bracket.

I hope your community will be participating and look forward to your response! Thank You.

Sounds interesting . One question:

Size: 10+ Communities (15 player rosters each, 10 regulars + 5 subs)

--> does this mean the matches will be 10v10's or will they be smaller? Or is the size to be determined?

The match size for each round will be 10v10. If a player fails to show up for some reason then there should be 5 reserves ready to replace that player. Although if the majority wants me to raise the match size I am willing to do so.

I'd rather have it lowered than risen . But that's based on personal preference. I suppose 10v10 is a good compromise for letting smaller communities participate as well

Yes your clan is allowed to play. The more in the tournament the better it will be.

Each person may only play for one community. After sign-ups are over I would like all the community leaders to submit their rosters to me. That way I can check to make sure each player is representing only one community.

The KOSs2 (Contact: Goztow and Iamwiener) - we'll have to confirm that we can get 15 solid engagements of our members, though (by the 14th of August).

The [NE] Community would like to sign up

We will have at least 10 people ready. We may need a couple extra subs, so anyone who'd like to play with us is welcome to visit this thread:

Or can the communities decide to play 9v9 then .

I would really hate for their to be a forfeit. If both communities agree to play a smaller match size then go for it. If not then the match will be rescheduled and those two communities will have to play a double header(meaning play two rounds of the tournament in one day) the next saturday.

When we have a roster, do we simply post it in this subforum or will there be a sticky? Or do we PM it to you so you can add it to a post? Just trying to avoid unneeded new topics .

I am going to make a thread that will be made just for each community to submit their roster. This thread will be made one day before rosters should be submitted.

not sure if your joking, or just cant read dates
(im not a mod here so cant check ur ip)

If your actually serious. This tournament finished last year.

RGCT2 is the new glabal renegdae tourney. It is being hosted at Exodus Gaming Community - run by an admin team made up of members from numerous different communities.

You are very welcome to sign up for a team, providing one lets you... what server do you play on most often are you a reg on a particular renegade forums?

Check out www.exoduscommunity.com youl find the RGCT2 section there

if its a joke then shame on me :>

what names do you use on those servers, see if i can recall you?

i know n00bstories would appreciate some more good players. They have a smallish team and could use you im sure check them out at http://www.n00bstories.com/ and head onto the forums

im known there as sgipo/flamingunz jelly also has a team, but they have a big list so its probably not worth signing up for them

your welcome to PM me or reply in this thread
