buy UT3, it's 9 bucks and it's not a big deal
Renegade-X, however, is a very big deal

I'm buying for sure. Around here its $15.99. I'm a die hard Renegade player. So I'm sure I'll love this mod, hopefully! From what I've seen on the latest video it look good. 8 days to its released! Where is the download for the mod going to be? And is it going to be easy to install? The Server going to be easy to find? Whats the server going to be named? Is all this info and more info going to be provided and where?

www.renegade-x.com will feature the download (and mirrors?). Once you activated the mod, I suppose only renegade-x server(s) will be shown. There will surely be more than one server, though as the server software will only be released at the moment of game release, at the very start only the "official" server will be online.

It doesn't look like many people are going to get this mod. I'm just going by who talks about it on forums. So who will all get this mod? Besides the people who posted on this thread.
