Yeah I don't get this thing. It usually happens when you're an AI character, but I dunno what causes it.

isnt this just the same as throwing away your timed c4? You have no weapon afterwards?

No, if you throw away your timed C4, you still have the C4 out, just with no ammo. He has no weapon selected.

its basicly the same yet he crouches different and you literally have no weapon selected i think it has to do with lag...

It happens if the weapon your holding is removed from you, although unless your in a vehicle at the time it's removed I think it would automatically switch to another weapon if you have one.

Actually no, I've had it happen and the weapon isn't really removed. As far as I know, it has something to do with AI. Bots will generally put away their weapon when they're in a non-combat mode. I'm pretty sure this is a similar thing.

I am not saying that's the ONLY way it happens, I am just saying it's one way I know of making it happen. I know because I had some problems with that when developing the AR veterancy scripts.

Oh, then yeah. I think what happens is it removes your weapon then gives it back to you but you're still wielding the non-existent weapon so it doesn't switch back. That's my theory, anyways. Although, IIRC, removing weapons can cause crashing, so I dunno.

1. Find input01.cfg
 2. Add "SelectNoWeapon_Primary=N_Key"
 3. Press N
 4. ???
 5. Profit!
