the harvys are nice too(as always i hate "rims"), but the pistol.. The red color doesn't fit with that gray

Red harv sucks- the green just doesn't go too well and it seems too neon to me.

Green one's better, but get rid of the colored tires.

Light tank, I don't like the blood red mixed with the almost white color. If it were pure white mixed with red, that'd be ok, but the texture, it just... doesn't mix well.

Pistol looks pretty bad, the red is just too slapped on. I like the texture itself (as in the red "tattoo" look), but it just doesn't fit, especially since it's ALL OVER the thing.

I know this isn't what he was going for, because he did it to the Red one too, but I'd like to see the harvesters and other objects that walk/travel through Tiberium leaves trails of it for a brief period.

The light tank is the best of all Four textures in my opinion.

Except you didn't actually say that in the original post

Now I remember why you got banned off of EKTRPG numerous times; and you still haven't evolved past that level of maturity.

I don't mind it that you're a little displeased with my criticism, but when you outright ask for comments, then tell me to shut the fuck up, you're obviously lacking a few vital brain cells and shouldn't be posting your work. EXPECT CRITICISM. It happens, grow up and deal with it.

Or do the mature and sensible thing and rework your skins a bit.

Also, why the hell didn't you just release these? Stop pulling a scrin, faggot.

that is said to ask for someones help to tell you what your skins look like then tell them to stfu.

take it from me reborn don't like me anymore because of what i did now i can't take that back and i probably lost a nice person that has helped me out a lot on Renegade, and probably a lot more people now wont help me because of that.

and to me i like your harvs needs more stuff less rims, that make it gay.

the light looks like shit

and the pistol looks like shit
