Honestly, I really want to say this is fake. I know it's not very likely for it to pass if it IS real, but... still, what the fuck? I really can't think of any words for this, this is just flat out retarded.

Please, someone tell me this is complete bullshit.

Apparently this wouldn't work due to too many porn sites. (He would also have to contact a lot of ISP's)

Tbh, I hope it doesn't work.

Edit: grammar changes

It's not even a matter of it working or not. It's the sheer absurdity that they'd even suggest it.

True, most things we see nowadays were invented by the adult business. Video streaming started to develop much faster when the adult industry started using it. It's a big business and if they would even be able to ban it, it would cause a gigantic downwards spiral for the economy.
