Is this creature remotely related to StarCraft? I can't think of which Zerg unit looks like it.

http://cgi.ebay.com/StarCraft-Creature-1990s-release_W0QQitemZ130494342800QQcategoryZ64857QQcmdZViewItemQQ_trksidZp5197.m7QQ_trkparmsZalgo%3DLVI%26itu%3DUCI%26o tn%3D2%26po%3DLVI%26ps%3D63%26clkid%3D7604022665771992695

Can't be the Overlord or the Devourer for sure.

edit:

I think the seller is mistaken; just went thru both my Prima StarCraft strategy guides looking at Zerg units' pictures...can't find anything similar.

I can't identify it. Can you ask the seller what it's supposed to be?

It's nothing out of Starcraft or Sc2. It looks more like a combination of units; and even that would be a stretch.

Yeah, that's what I was thinking. It looks like a bunch of different parts from different models was stuck together to form that thing.

The head looks like something out of Star Wars... aside from the blue brain thing.

thanks all, seems even the seller isn't sure of what it is lol; she got back:

Quote:Hi this is just an item my ex is letting me get rid of so I'm not at all sure what it is. It was released to software stores selling the starcraft game back in the 90's I think. Big brainy type thing but don't play the game and haven't a clue as to its name.

wondered how many folks are bidding on it thinking it is a StarCraft Zerg creature Maybe its from another game.

If it is supposed to be a StarCraft unit, it's some odd mixture between an overlord and a baneling, but it's quite obviously neither.

Incorrect.

I had to look up baneling...you are right indeed. I did initially think this maybe a overlord. all well...

thanks to everyone for your help; I didn't bid.
