Yes, i'm that big of a n00b. Haven't played in YEARS! Where are the most packed servers these days? didn't see anything on WOL.

Your options are Jelly, Rencorner, MPF Ultra AOW Fan Maps server (if you get 4.0 RC1 scripts the game auto-downloads the maps while you're loading them) and n00bstories essentially. A few smaller ones I'm forgetting I'm sure.

Note worthy changes:

RenGuard was replaced by TT 4.0 (new anti-cheat + loads of bugfixes)

Most servers run a unlimited ammo mod now

General stuff:

Play on Jelly if you want to experiance playing 25vs25 with no time limit, on a pretty much vanilla server with very few modifications.

Play on n00bstories if you prefer smaller games with a time limit and a vanilla server.

Play on Ren Corner if you prefer to play medium sized games with no time limit and many modifications like a veteran system, tank shells, increases in health/armor as you progress through the vet system, be able to buy tanks when your production facility is down for 3x the cost and be able to buy weapons for your character.

If you want to play new maps, then MPF is for you, however as stated previously, you'll need to download this to play there: <http://www.tiberiantechnologies.org/files/tt-scripts-4.0rc1.exe>

If you prefer sniping then your 2 choices are TmX no hugging, no reload and Jelly sniper with reload.

If you like co-op then your best best is to go to Sla mutant co-op, where you can buy weapons, use a refill command and play with your friends against waves of bots set to different difficulty levels.

I hope that's made it a bit more clear for you.
