Subject: Clanwars.cc - League Relaunch

It's almost been a year and a half since the last time the Clanwar league was active, and due to recent success in lobby wars and fun wars, Crushu06 and I have decided that it is about time that the league is reactivated again.

We're hoping to recreate the fun and competitive environment that existed within the league once again, just like the years before hand and hopefully replicate the same success.

This relaunch has taken a lot of time due to one reason and another, but hopefully with a little hard work and dedication we can get the league off the ground and start getting people playing competitively once again.

Typically when it comes to administrating Clanwars.cc, it is typically kept a secret who is administrating the league (unless Spoony is running it at the time).

Since the Clanwars community really only consists of about 10 people and might only attract that number of people, I fail to see the purpose of keeping the identity of the administrators a secret.

Both myself and Crush will be joint administrators of the league this time round, we'll make a great team.

We've been in regular discussions with both Trojan and zunnie regarding servers for the league and both have kindly offered us private servers free of charge, with the appropriate settings we require. I'd like to thank them both greatly for their generosity. It's great knowing that we have their backing from their respective communities.

We're going to have two servers up and running: 1 American and 1 European, both with 16 slots.

The server settings this time round are going to be bog standard Clanwar settings, without the credit modifications that Spoony made last year with the option of enabling them at a later date.

I'm hoping that we can get the league launched again within the first two weeks of July and I hope to see some new comers this time round. We may be in need of some testers for our servers, so if you're interested in testing - please contact Crush.

Feel free to register if you don't have an account already @ www.clanwars.cc

Oh God. Just stop. You know damn well this will go good for a month and then die again lol. Just stick to the normal lobby wars that crushu does at Jelly. Having to actually organize clanwars and make people care to report them, this will go on for 1 month like all the other relaunches that occured. And this especially sucks when XWIS is taking a shit because of some faggot who has no life.

And the administration of CW.CC was always discovered within the first 2 weeks LOL.

Excellent. Thank you very much.

Is it possible that the password could simply be clanwar? Makes life a bit easier.
