Could you tell us the map name. Perhaps you would get a better response if people knew what they were testing.

Sounds interesting.

I've tested things like some of Beany's maps, SomeRhino's... and i would have tested RenAlert before the public if ACK could have connected better.

(3000 mile difference causes small kbps. ./ )

Sorry to about this, but the beta release might be delayed a bit, I had a few most horrible problems and I lost a few files.
