RenList provides the ability to retrieve server list from GameSpy and WOL. You can also connect to any listed servers by pressing "Connect" or double-clicking the selected server.

Changes since the last release:

1.0.8 - 3 Aug, 2014

- * Change: Parsing GameSpy query header "[name]_t#" as server option to follow GameSpy specification (UI for this will be added in future update)
- * Change: Column "Favorite" can no longer be sorted
- * Fix: Catch connect throttle error from WOL
- * Fix: Sorting now works for customized GSA column order
- * Fix: Join button on WOL is now enabled when closing Server Information
- * Remove: Renegade Resurrection support

ReadmeRenList 1.0.8 by Adad

* What does it do:

RenList provides the ability to retrieve server list from GameSpy and WOL.

You can also connect to any listed servers by pressing "Connect" or double-clicking the selected server.

>* Usage:

->* WOL:

RenList can list servers from WOL as long as you provide a valid nickname, password and serial to connect.

You may play in any of the servers with 2 clicks; even if they are Direct-Connect protected.

->* WOL Buddy List:

RenList has its own WOL buddy list manager.

Unlike the one from Renegade, this allows an unlimited amount of buddies to be added.

You can also delete, edit and page buddies from the manager.

RenList has a nice multi-tab console to send and receive pages from WOL.

Once a page is received, the window will flash to get your attention.

The * at the end of a tab name indicates that you have an unread message from the player.

->* GSA:

RenList can list servers from GameSpy.

You may play in any of the servers by double-clicking the selected server or clicking the "Connect" button.

->* Custom Columns:

RenList provides a way to customize columns to fit your needs including visibility, order and width.

Right click on the column header or from menu: "Options" -> "Columns editor".

The above settings are stored in RenList.xml so you don't have to redo it everytime you start RenList.

>* Note:

RenList developers are not responsible for any actions done by WOL, such as bans.

>* Changelog:

- Read changelog.txt

>* Enjoy RenList!

You want me to go restart all of the server owners brenbots, for multiple people having the same problem? That'll be interesting to try to do.

I had the same issue this morning, and I've even had my hosts file directed towards the actual IP since he setup the mock gsa.

This morning there was zero servers showing on gsa, right now there is one.

Server owners need to restart their respective bots to properly display in the Renlist program..

Don't ask me why that is.. The only server ATM is ours and restarting the bot resolved it..

Servers with a WOL proxy (i.e. Jelly, presumably all the ones with players) won't crash from that

I wasn't around when it was a problem but it seems fine now... if you're using a recent version of BRenBot (and its broadcasting from GSA) you can probably just do !plugin_unload gamespy, wait 5 seconds, then !plugin_load gamespy there definitely is less servers than two days ago though

The IP address of the master server probably changed if everything stopped working at the same time. BRenBots UDP socket only resolves the hostname when the plugin loads, if the IP changes mid-session the GSA broadcasts will continue going to the old IP address until the GSA session is recycled (which can be achieved by unloading and reloading the plugin or rebooting the bot)

It's a bit unusual for a server like that to have a dynamic IP though...

The IP hasn't changed. It's only listing servers that the person has added as a favorite. I don't know why.

Something with cncnet probably changed and RenList isn't recognizing it.

When you favorite a server the IP is saved in the renlist config file and RenList will directly query the IP, instead of first getting the list of every IP via the gamespy master server before querying every server independently.

Seems I'm not seeing any servers anymore in the gamespy version of reenlist, some people in game are saying its caused by a windows update, but beings I just installed a new hard drive it installed a good 200+ updates off the bat so its rather hard to pin down which one that is (if that is indeed the issue).

I have been having to connect with WOL to get in game for the time being.

On a side note, I think GSA should be moved to the first tab as I think most people that still use WOL still join through Renegade.

Who is maintaining this though? Do they even know lol? This is the last thing this game needs is the easy (best) access cut off. I agree too on switching the tabs. New players (which we are seeing a lot of) are not going to use WOL.

I'm noticing a few bugs now:

1. Sometimes it doesn't let you join a server unless you select another server and then reselect the original server your trying to join.
2. Sometimes I have to refresh multiple times (like up to 10) to get the server list to display (I've had multiple people say this has been happening to them as well).

Otherwise it seems to be working great!

Weird. I've never encountered those nor getting any reports. Interestingly those bugs appear after a year of latest stable release.

Actually its been happening for me for quite sometime, I just finally got my lazy ass around to reporting it. Perhaps (if your willing) you could add a while loop that makes it continue to attempt to get the list until it gets one if the player clicks refresh? Maybe even add a nice "Getting Server List, stand-by..." Dialog?

Their server list (Google "c&c renegade servers) doesn't show any servers. It's useful for when I wanna see how many people are online without logging into my computer to check RenList.

If servers don't show up on RenList, roszek, I read you can favorite them and they'll appear no matter what so long as you're connected to the Internet.

Something is wrong with the sorting filters. A lot of servers don't show up until after you click one of the sorting headers. Clicking those makes the full list show up. If you look at the number of available servers it will often not be the same as the number in the list. Clicking the a sort header will make the missing servers show up. Its not an issue with the actual querying of the list. It just isn't displaying all the servers until you resort the list.

It seems to happen most with Favorited servers. Try adding some. I have seen it happen even without them though. The best way to test it is to open up renlist count the number of servers and see if the number matches available servers. Keep refreshing it and checking the number to see if they match. Very frequently they do not match until you resort the list.

I think I found the race-condition causing this issue which is related to network latency.
