"Dante, the only fan EVER to have received *some source code to Renegade, and have one of his DLL's use the Renegade Server Library."

That's cool, as far I knew I thought it was gone with WW.

"Dante, the only fan EVER to piss off of a roof and declare i am the king of the world while eating a snowcone."

Done that, but wasn't eating a snowcone exactly.

"Dante, the only fan EVER to not give a shit about what is in his signature or what others have done."

Is it not the truth.

Visit <http://www.cncammo.com> for all necessary components for Renegade!

"Message of the blowing wind
Erasing memories
Stars are the witnesses of our existence
Change is what the world awaits
Could that be peace or war?
The answer no one knows
Trusting the break of dawn
The blue bird flies away

Travelling beyond the bounds
We have to take that step
What are we waiting for? It's now or never Fear to see "The World to Be"
Is why we hesitate
Repeat the same mistake
Hoping to break new ground
The blue bird flies away

Reaching out to catch the sun
To hold it in our hands
Longing for something strong to hide our weakness
Soon the light may disappear
Nothing is meant to last
Yet we believe our world
Searching for happiness
The blue bird flies away"

OMG your sigs only a bit long i thought mine was stretching it lol

Phoenixx, didn't you notice that the 1.035 patch included my Glacier Flying map in Renegade? You didn't notice that it was subsequently patched by myself and updated in the 1.036 patch?

Creation is to bring something into being. I brought the map into existence in the Renegade game. I received nothing for it... I own all rights to all of the maps I own.

Okay...I know Ack can come off as an ass to some people, and has rubbed a few people the wrong way. I only say this because it is obvious from the way people treat him, I'm not chosing sides or debating the past.

What I do know however is that Ack got a simple MESH for the Glacier terrain. We are talking about just a wireframe of the GROUND. No textures, no objects, etc. He spent MANY hours and days turning it into what it is now.

Its like handing someone a rough flowchart of a computer program, and then the programmer spends weeks writing all the code, debugging it, etc. And then you would complain that said person claimed they created the program, even though they transformed what was nothing but a loose framework into something real and functional.

You can say he "just finished it" if you want, and technically you are correct, since he "only" did 99.99% of the work. I can guarantee that if you got the map with EVERYTHING in it done except for just the PT's, it would still take you over an hour to get it working properly.

In short, if you want to bash on Ack, please find some other reason, because saying that he didn't make Glacier what it is today is futile. WS themselves even gave him permission to say he created it, so lets put this issue to rest.

 2. He's a great mapper, but not exactly "one of the nicer ones".
 3. There was no argument that was almost started in his thread, it was started, pay attention!
 4. This thread was ABOUT ACK dumbass... About him changing the part in his sig about him creating Glacier Flying. Maybe you should go back and actually read the thread! :rolleyes:

Okay, so what do YOU want to call what he did with it? He certainly did way more than "add finishing touches" or "polish it". He has explained that he never said he created it from scratch, but in the process of putting in days and hours of work to turn a wireframe terrain into a fully functional map, he "created" what is now known as Glacier-Flying today. WS didn't have a problem with him saying this, why can't you cut him some slack?

Look, as much as I hate ACK. I have to go with him. Even if ACK didn't create the map from scratch... he is still entitled to call it his own. As Westwood themselves... GAVE IT TO HIM. And has no problems calling it his own. And he does have some merit on the map.

Last and finally, Westwood gave the map so the map is his. EVEN IF HE DIDN'T DO ANYTHING TO IT. But unfortunately, he did... which gives him a lot of rights to call it his own. I hope I make sense because I didn't understand what I just said.

well really it should be the only 'westwood started fan finished' map to make it into renegade, although im guessing it wasn't worked on by westwood much.

But remember if westwood hadn't 'started' it, it would probably not have made it into the official renegade patch.
