Stop modifying Glacier Flying or I'll find a way to pull the plug - including contacting your ISP.

If you doubt me, I invite you to look in your data folder for a C&C Glacier Flying.txt file which says I own the map and all the copyrights involved. Westwood placed that file in the patch - that's all the legal ground I need.

His ISP aren't going to do anything though - it's not like he's hosting a modified version of the map on his site. If he was, you could get them to remove it. Otherwise, they're pretty much powerless.

He'll host it on his site, because no one in the community will host a map that's a total ripoff of something I've done.

I don't see crap. All I see is a pretty good map that isn't hosted on nearly enough servers.

What innocence? All the evidence I need is on the computers of thousands of Renegade players.

That text file was placed in the patch by Westwood Studios, validating my claims.

Ack would have to OWN a copyright licence, or else you wont get any monetary compensation, and a court wouldnt take you seriously.

ACK, get a full copy of Glacier Flying (change the readme from aircraftkiller to your real name), burn it on a CD, and mail the CD to yourself. The mail will have a post office (part of the US gov, so its legit) timestamp on it. This is commonly known as the cheap man's copyright.

If you dont have any kind of OFFICIAL proof--a copyright--he can release Glacier_Flying_AI legally.

Rich[HN]ACK:

There are no guard towers like the warpath mod ones! There not editing or copying C&C Glacier Flying there making there own stuff in GMAX. You just want Ren Alert to be the only good mod out in are commuity but no, it's better than having one mod that people don't like as a person trying to stop thing been sayed taken from his/her maps!

The two Guard towers are simular but no the same and I don't seen then in C&C Glacier Flying only for GDI base defence's.

I think you should read all of the thread again. You have got a bit lost some where on the point ACK is trying to make.

Um, are you slow? Or just not good at reading?

ACK's talking about them using his map to add their towers and whatever to, not about them using towers that looks like someone elses or whatever.

hey on that site it looks like you do have a modifyied glacier flying, and in my eyes i think thats wrong.

If the creator (AircraftKiller) tells you not to use his map, edit it or use any kind of objects from it, then you shouldn't.

i think what you are doing is wrong and i would just stop trying to make other peoples maps better, just try and make your own.

You can already see that people are flaming you for using somone else's work, and it will carry on and get worse if you continue to do so.

So, mate, just stop. Don't use any peoples work without their permission otherwise people will flame you and more than likely no one will trust you again even if you do start doing your own

thats all the advice i can give.

don't take this as a flame or an argument, just as advice, im no ones enemy.
