Hey i thought this would be a cool mod anyone up for the challenge????
It could be just like the movie ... ya and be realistic to like One well placed shot would equal a kill

Sounds great, if some people are up for it. I can map for you, I just got some great new techniques. I have always disliked the fact that it takes like 10 bullets to someones limbs to kill people in Renegade, It should be real, like 2 shots to limbs = a kill and 1 shot to the head or torso = a kill.

Before you even get started, i have been in the comunity since the day i got renegade and i have seen many many mods collaps, dont even bother starting , think everything through such as characters which most of the mods had to close because of this, i am not trying to stop ur progress but just saying that you have to be 100% dedicated to this.

I'm Eventually gonna make a mod and almost have all of the character and vehicles thought of, but I have no drawings so I'm not going to start yet.

Yes...

Base it on the movie, and it will get shut down. Base it off of the Delta Force game, and it will get shut down. But, if you base it off of the real conflict in Somolia and not off of the movie/game, and about the helicopters that got shutdown that day, etc., no problem.

(Yes, it's called Copyrights, and many-a-mod got shutdown for infringing on them.)

It's called "Copy Rights", and I already mentioned games.

There is a BHD PC game. It's just a mod for the game, there are no copyright issues with that. Kinda like the Renegade game, a mod for Renegade. That site has nothin to do with Renegade.

What??

"Been there, done that"

The feeling when you're doing something, that you've already did that before.
