Sarcasm aside, there is no perfect weapon. Like everything in any good game, there is no perfect weapon, vehicle or unit.

Snipers will swear by the Sniper Rifle or Ramjet Rifle.

Tank killers swear by the Personal Ion Cannon or... whatever weapon that short Nod guy carries... can't remember the name right now. It's good on anything really, but the reload time and the fact that it carries a VERY limited ammo load are hindrances.

Of course, advanced weapons will always be better than the basic Auto Rifles or Shotguns etc.

IMHO - the best weapon is the Mobile Artillery's cannon.

it's called the "Scorpion" Mass Driver

the best weapon...Hotwire or a tech...they can take out infantry with 5 shots to the head with the pistol and take out buildings and tanks with their c4...not to mention help defend the base from across the map by using proxies.

There is no single best weapon...you have to figure out what you're going to be fighting against and pick accordingly...thought I'm almost always a hotwire/tech, Mobius(not mendoza)(only when defending), or Raveshaw(not PIC) that railgun is pretty good too....although can only shoot 1 bullets...but that one shot can blow up small vehical and some enemy.... and somethings, when you see enemis' plant fly over your head, just shoot them with one shot and they just blow up in the sky.

The Laser Chain Gun is really useful for breaking enemy tank blockades, especially in a group.

My personal favorite is the silenced pistol, You'll be suprised how much you can take of with a few head shots

It all depends on what you wanna do...

I like the volt rifle as it is balanced very well for infantry, vehicle and infantry damage plus it has a good range and continuous (or however you spell that) fire. But most of the time you are doing one particular function and you want the best weapon for that particular task...

JavacxThe Ramjet isn't better than the sniper rifle.

How so? It does more damage, can be used effectively on light vehicles and is among the best ways to kill aircraft, carries the same ammo load, shorter reload time... so unless you're talking about price...

If you want to do damage to vehicles, get your ION Cannon out. I'm talking about sniping. I'd rather pay half the price for a rifle which is a faster shot, smaller character, invisible tracer, then a bulky piece of crap which costs double what I'd rather spend, slower shot, larger character, and visible tracer.

I snipe people, not vehicles.

I'm not sure, but I do think the normal sniper rifle shots it bullets faster than the Ramjet.

I mostly use Havoc/Sakura for sniping, even though it gives my position away, because headshotting is nearly impossible on 56k (unless the target stands still), so it 's easier if I do more damage to the target per shot.

cost isnt a factor it just says what is the best gun. and i would have 2 agree wit tech i like the regualr sniper rifle better with sniping but Ramjet slaughters any helis or small vehicles, and its quite hard 2 kill a mobius or mendoza wit 500 sniper.

Volt Autorife is the best weapon. It is equally good against vehicles and humans.
Second best is Laser Chain gun.

Ill put in a bid from JeffLee - LCG.

And now for mine.

As has been said, it depends on the situation.

If I am sniping, I will see if their barracks is dead or not. If it is, I get the Ramjet sniper, as I know I will have PLENTY of one shot kills, no matter where I hit.

Against Vehicles, LCG or MAss Driver for Nod, PIC for GDI.

For Anti-Infantry.. it depends. You do not allways have to jump for the Mobius/Mendoza. Sometimes a simple shotgun is all you need.

For buildings... well, Techie still is the top of that.. BUT a Volt rifle fully loaded and some Timed C4 can take out a building, and I'm not sure about the PIC/MD either... I think they can.

Anyway, it all depends on the situation.

Two Stealth Blackhands can take down a building fairly easily. Place your two C4's on the MCT of a building and about 10 seconds before it's about to blow get both SBH to shoot the mct. Around 10 seconds after the C4 has blow the building will be destroyed as the lasers are quite powerful. With 3 SBH you can silently blow up a building. This is quite rare as you need teamwork to do it, When members of my clan are playing we can do stuff like this and it works well.
