For a while now I have been playing and every so often the frame rate will drop to 5 ish for a few seconds then return to normal, which is annoying. Any of you out there know what the prob might be?

The gameplay slows down at certain times, for example-
FPS will be like 40 or so walking into the field
FPS will be 1 or 2 when you activate thirty remote c4's

Theres a possibility that somewhere else in the map, major action is taking place and perhaps slowing the game down as a result.

When you're thinking very hard and you're all stressed out, don't you need a ten-second break!?
