I sampled it from Westwoods HAVOC.EXE which is the BINK video movie of Havoc going through Westwood Studios...its a hilarious movie clip..anyhow at the end they had this cool animated explosion and the renegade box, so I captured it to mpeg, and then imported it into GifAnimator where I trimmed it down to under 1Megabyte and added the scrolling text. I had to edit about 30 frames to remove a "coming soon" sign hehe

You used to be able to download it from the Westwood Studios FTP, but since 20th September 2002, EA have archived the majority of things for deletion.

Luckily, i was able to download it around a year ago. It truely is something you must see.

Maybe Blazer or someone with higher bandwidth than me could temporarily host it online somewhere, or somebody could post an existing mirror location if it exists.
