1. could be your ISP
  2. could be the server
  3. your computer is gay..

its your connection.. even though I use DSL, I experience the same problem sometimes... What happens is you probably have your connection set to T1/LAN... the problem with that is, your connection can't take a speed that high therefore shutting down. All you have to do is set your connection to cable in your information on WOL. If that's not it... I have no clue.....

Actually one of the things I found is that the Linksys router seemed to be causing this.

Maybe that is the cause for some of you guys?

Wild1, I have EXACT SAME PROBLEM! Doesn't seem to happen on Madspy server or Gamespy games, did you ever find the cause of this? Mine kicks me out at 11 minutes exactly.

Edit: Eh, nevermind. I see you responded to my thread about the same problem.
