If you work on music synthesizers, write MIDI, or do anything along the line of writing your own music, please post some of your work, and if possible, the name of the program you've used to compile it.

This is just a general survey that I'm trying to establish to find out which program would work best for music development, and I want to compare and contrast a bunch of the local's works.

Thanks

My own work: DarkElite v3 (beta)

I used Anvil Midi Studio (unregistered)

Contact Silexz on either the Dom forums, or FOD forums.

He is very good. Some samples of his work are on the Dom forums, and I think that after listening, you will be eager to hear what he has to say. I think ACK does some of this too, as his weblog bears out.

Here are all of Silexz's songs. I think they are great. My favorite is "The Witness".

Both he and foenixz were good clanmates. I should have taken the offer to join Dom.....

We had a pretty good website and everything back then, and the clan name was a good one too.

I miss the heyday of Renegade, when you could get online and actually play against Dev, ACK, Crimson, Blazer, and the traditional baddies like raveshaw, RavenUSC, anyone from OPS.....

I still love this game.
