I don't know how current this is but today I found out msgtpain was hacked. All of his nicknames, krnelpain, bgpain, msgtpain. The hacker is known as abarrat or l33tsnipe. He joined fastc0nn4 (50plyr) and had the host made him an admin. The host didn't know this wasn't msgtpain until later. This hacker also uses the big head mod, I have IP banned him, he tried entering the server with all of those nicknames mentioned above. Just thought I would let you guys know if you see any of Shane's nicks in other servers its not him. Cautious with banning him though because he also hacked the renmaps.com website.

Contrary to Lurker, England and TY's statements of WSE being "dead", it appears quite the opposite.

It may not be "officially" reformed, but then again, thier former members aren't either.

HomeyHow many people were in the original wse? I've heard of like 10 of them still fucking around with stuff.

Core Group were, Ty, Revolt, Lurker, Edexcel, Sasha, JVman and myself.

Ty is trying to get his Game servers online
Revolt is bored and just codes
Lurker found the front door =) - sos lurk if you read this Edexcel is still trying to setup another irc network like Radiantx
Sasha, died or something dont care
JVman, runs warez channels
Myself, admin the-pits, trying to run some RTCW servers and host sites.

Only Ty aka abarrat still cares about 'WSE' you got issues, you contact him.

Not you, idiot. I was referring to the guy who is trying to defend your lack of ability to choose appropriate friends. It's all about context, child.

And yes, I actually visit quite frequently, Breetomas.

I don't have any inclination to post there, as the Pitts have changed quite a bit since you, I , and the other founding members started going there to battle the self nuke bug.

I like Msgtpain, but I do not agree with his choices in moderators. (Yourself excluded, despite the recent unpleasantness here)

I also have issues with my internet provider which keep me off the Pitts. The number of players is too high for my connection.

For what its worth I think England is an OK guy. I have had many dealings with him and only a few were unpleasant. Those were not mostly his fault in any case.

The brute force cough * hack for* WOL pws is still around and we have not been able to get the site I know it is hosted at shut down. And a few of us have tried. The owner simply doesn't care or covertly supports them.

Revolt is the one who hacked msgtpain's site. I don't know why people try to cover up who did it when Revolt himself came into the n00bstories IRC channel and repeatedly not only admitted it, but showed no remorse for it, and gave everyone his home address.

I trust all the admins on the Pits except one, because he is WAY too close still with all these people who want to try and ruin the game for us. Plus he has more than once deleted my posts from the Pits forums and tried to kick/ban me from the Pits IRC channels though I am an admin same as him, and have been for lots longer.
