Germany is GMT + 1 hour meaning it will start at 19:00 GMT if I am correct. I may turn up if I am not doing anything. The map selection in my opinion is okay but nothing different from other servers. I'm looking forward to playing the new maps though.

Also Remember it's MMN tonight - Beany's final one for a while. If it's anything like last week it should be great fun. I just hope my latency is a lot better than 520ms this time.

For Mapwishes is the Link "Vote4Map".

You write your Map you wanna play and where we can get it.
When the Map is good it gets into MapCycle.

It starts in 1 hour so hurry up.

Where did you see the models??

lol... You are one pathetically obsessed little child.

No, dumbass. I never said ANY of the models for Genegade were bad. In fact, the only thing I've said about ANY of them was that your little buggy had very little detail, and that the cylinders in the model had some 22+ sides, at least 10 sides more than necessary (even the damn axel and shocks had 22+ sides each).

You really need to grow up, and learn how to take criticism and advice. Or at least find someone else to stalk.
